JUNE TERM. 1894

J. I. DOWSETT VS. PLORA JONES AND PIEERE JONES, HER HUSBAND,

BEFORE JUDD, C. J., BICKERTON, AND FREAR, JJ.

A married woman could even progress the Married Women's Act of 1888, make a valid contract, provided her husband consented thereto, under Sections 1280 and 1287 of the Civil Code

An action upon such contract, if brought after said Art, should be against the wife alone, although, if brought before the Art, it should have been against both husband and wile.

The creditor's claim spains: the husband for the debt of his wife, under the Code, was not a vested right, and might be taken away by statute.

A new trial is ordered on the ground that the decision of the trial court against husband and wife is contrary to the evidence, which shows a cause of action against the wife alone.

The plaintiff is given leave to smend by striking out the name of the husband. as defendant, in view of the circumstances of the case and especially of the fact that the statute of limitations has become a bar to a new action win a the commencement of this action.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY FREAR, J. repealed at any time before judgment against him. The creditor's

This is an action of assumpsit against busband and wife for $200 and interest. The Circuit Court, First Circuit, jury waived fou de fendants' appeal from the District Court) found as follows: "That Flora Jones with the consent of her husband borrowed $200 from the plaintiff as a loan to be returned, and that no payment had been made to the plaintiff, and the same is due to plaintiff with interest. * * * The money being borrowed by and loaned to the wife with consent of her busband, and not repaid, she is liable. I award judgment to the plaintiff." To this decision the defendants excepted on the ground that "said setion cannot be maintamed against said defendants jointly and that no judgment for plain tiff can legally be entered herein and that no cause of action was shown burgin Of the many views of the facts of this case suggested by counsel only one need be considered. This is the only one supported by the evidence and is that taken by the Circuit Court, namely that of an original promise made by the wife alone with the consent of her husband during coverture before the passage of the Married Woman's Act of 1888, the action having been brought since the passage of that Act.

The questions raised by the first ground of exception are: (1) Was such promise valid, and (2) if so, who should be parties defendant in an action upon it?

At common law the promise would have been void, because made during coverture. Our statutes, prior to 1888, provided among other things as follows: "The husband " " it bears upon this case differ from shall be accountable in his own property, for all the debts contracted by his wife anterior to and during mar- that "no cause of action was shown Civ. be stated that the provisions above quoted from the Act of 1888 are subject to certain exceptions, which however are not applicable to this case. But it is argued that the accountability of the husband is in this case a vested right in the creditor, since it originated prior to the Act of 1888, and that the legislature could not constitutionally divest it. It is true that a vested right could not be thus divested, and the Act itself

(Sec. 13) expressly excepts from its operation "any rights of property

The Exact Number for Oahu is 1917 and of These 509 are Native Born.

Of the 1945 registration certificates issued twenty-eight have been cancelled, and a final count of the books yesterday showed that 1917 persons on Oahu are entitled to vote at the next election.

Some of these certificates which have been cancelled were issued to persons who, so the records show. had not complied with the provision of the constitution regarding the paying of taxes. Others were settled, is not a vested right. See 2 Bishop, Mar. Women, Secs. 45, 52; also Niles v. needed in every home and so admir-ably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly releived and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receieve immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept on hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it. A Sensation at the Hotel.

There was excitement at the Hawaiian hotel the other evening. Consul-General Mills lost his ennui in the soup; Judge Bickerton dropped his toast : Dr. Woods tipped over a chair; Mr. Whitely nervously undid his necktie; Captain Houdlette hurriedly left the table; in his pocket by mistake. These were only half of the errors made and all because Steward Freiman had mackerel instead of mullet on the bill of fare.

He is a most pleasant man to talk to, and gives one the impression that, if he could, he would tell the whole story gladly, but that he could not do so without violating a confidence. "I would like to tell you all about it," says he, "but, really the matter is, at present, in embryo, and I could not do it. I am communicating now with the Government, and it would not do for me to tell all I know. When the matter is completed I will tell you everything freely, but at present -" and here Mr. Fleming stops, looks pleasant, and changes the subject. There is very little doubt, however, that Mr. Fleming's mission here is an important one. A few days after his arrival he was called on by Captain May, of the Hyabeen added to the list had it not cinth. This, in itself, is not of any special significance; but the fact that the captain wore his full uniform, and was closeted for some time with Mr. Fleming seems to have some import. Then again, British Commissioner Hawes and Mr. Fleming seem to have almost diplomatic relations with each other. Altogether, Mr. Fleming's visit here seems, at the present

It is expected that the Champion, which left here a few weeks ago, will soon return, and bring some information regarding Neckar island. It is a current rumor, and one that seems to be substantial, that the British cruiser has gone to the barren little rock for the purpose of surveying its shores and ascertaining whether, in the event of PATENT its being impossible or impracticable to land a cable here, Neckar island could be made use of for the purpose. Of course, if the cable should be landed there, a branch line would be laid to Honolulu, and we would have communication with the outside world, in addition to that of steamers. It is a consummation devoutly to be wished There is no mediciene so often for, and, from present indications,
